Alteration Tips

- On average, standard wedding gown alterations cost approximately $400-$800. Customizations can cost more than the average. Final cost will be dependent on the seamstress and the work needed to be done.
- The ideal time frame for alterations is 2-3 months. It is recommended to start researching seamstresses and booking your fittings as soon as you have an estimated arrival time for your gown (provided by your stylist approximately 1-2 weeks after order date). Please schedule ASAP if you will have less than 2 months for alterations.
- It is extremely important that you feel confident and comfortable with the seamstress you choose. Just as you trusted your stylist to help you find your perfect wedding gown, you must trust that your seamstress will help you achieve the perfect fit. When choosing who to work with, ask for referrals from wedding professionals, friends and family. Read reviews and discuss your desires and expectations with the seamstress before booking.
- Charlotte's is not responsible for any alteration conflicts or issues. If, for some reason, you are unhappy with your alterations please discuss with your seamstress.
